MANY DELEGATES ON THE GROUND

President Robinson Says the Convention
Will Be the Largest and Most Enthusiastic in the History of the Organization—Delegates Already Arriving—General Hastings and the Other Candidates to Be Present.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 4.—The convention will be the largest, most successful and most enthusiastic in the history of the league, said Congressman "Jack" Robinson, the energetic president of the State League of Republican clubs, which will meet in annual convention in this city tomorrow. "There will be over 1,000 delegates and alternates in the convention. One hundred and eighty-four clubs in good standing have reported, and each of these will be represented by three delegates and the same number of alternates."

Congressman Robinson reached the city at midnight to direct the preliminary arrangements of the convention. He was accompanied by his political and personal friend, Captain Joseph H. Huddell, one of the best known Republican politicians in Eastern Pennsylvania. Mr. Robinson had a conference with the local general committee this morning. He expressed much pleasure in your correspondent with the plans of the committee, and predicted the convention would make for the Republican ticket many hundred votes this fall. He claims many young men are leaving the Democratic party and associating themselves with the Republican clubs.

Major Everett Warren, of Scranton, the next president of the league, came to the city yesterday to meet the delegates and assist President Robinson in arranging the preliminaries. Major Warren has plastered the corridors of the Lochiel and other leading hotels, the trees in Capital park, and other public places with large placards announcing his candidacy, as if there was a fight for the honor, which will be without a shadow of a doubt. Fred W. Flett, journal clerk of the house of representatives, and Captain John C. Delaney, of this city, are assisting Major Warren to receive the delegates at his headquarters at the Lochiel.

THIS EVENING'S PARADE.
The general committee has arranged for a parade tomorrow evening. It will cover only a short route, from the headquarters at the Lochiel hotel to the opera house, where the mass meeting will be held, and is only intended as an escort to General Hastings and other speakers who are expected to be present. The reception committee, with a band, will act as escort to visiting clergies from Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Lancaster and Scranton, which are expected to arrive this evening and tomorrow. District Attorney Detweiler, of this city will be chief marshal of the procession.

A pleasant feature of the convention will be the presence of General Hastings and his colleagues on the state ticket at the mass meeting. The speech of welcome will be delivered by A. Wilson Norris, a rising young lawyer of this city and a nephew of the late Auditor-General Norris. President Robinson will respond. "Ajax" Colburn, of Scranton, will place Major Warren's name before the convention. Mr. Colburn is one of the most eloquent talkers in the anthracite region. General Hastings will arrive about 10 o'clock, will be the guest of County Chairmen Weiss at his residence on Third street. The other candidates will have headquarters at the various hotels.

General D. H. Hastings, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, arrived at 9 o'clock tonight and was met by a delegation at the station. He was driven to the Lochiel hotel and held a short reception. Tomorrow evening he will open the campaign with a stirring speech at a mass meeting to be held at the opera house.

MINE CABLE BREAKS.
The Fate of Twelve Miners Is in Doubt.
MAWEAKA, Ill., Sept. 4.—The wire cable attached to a cage in a 1,000-foot shaft at the Assumption coal mine near here, broke this morning. The cage was 300 feet from the bottom when the accident happened, and it demolished everything in its way. The engineer lost control of the engine and the up bound cage crashed through the roof of the shaft.

Twelve men, who were at work below, have not yet been taken out. Their condition is not known.

A RED HOT CAMPAIGN.
Breakridge and His Opponents Talking Night and Day.
LEXINGTON, Sept. 4.—The primaries which will decide the result in the Ashland district will be held Sept. 15. For the closing two weeks Colonel Breakridge has rallied his supporters and his campaign committee announce meetings day and night for every remaining date all over the district.

Colonel Breakridge is speaking night and day. The Owens and Settle campaign committees also announce lists of speakers, among them being many prominent citizens. The senator, congressmen and others are trying to keep out of the fight. With a half dozen meetings daily some days more the district is well stirred up.

AFTER PULLMAN COMPANY.
Attorney General Maloney Will Not Renege the Case.
CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Attorney General Maloney is still after the Pullman company. He has notified its attorney that he will appear before Judge Gibbons tomorrow and ask leave to file the amended petition in the quo warranto proceedings, in which the company is asked to show cause why it should not forfeit its charter.

The reasons given are that the company sells gas and water without proper authority and also does a good business in supplying steam heat to residents at a large price. The company's right to speculate in lands is denied, also its privilege of operating a brick plant. The sale of liquor at the Pullman hotel is held to be a direct violation of the law. In addition to these charges in the original petition are renewed.

The matches were shot under the auspices of the National Rifle association, teams representing the states of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Maine, Georgia and the District of Columbia competing. It was a fine day for shooting. A big crowd of experts were present and a cheer went up when it was announced that New Jersey had won the interstate match, with Pennsylvania second. In the Hilton trophy match the world's record at the 200 yard range was beaten four points by the New Jersey team with a score of 367. The Pennsylvania boys scored 363 and then gained a lead on the 300 yard range, finally winning the match by six points, with the District of Columbia second. Reading Tobacco Manufacturers Injured by Its Features.
READING, Pa., Sept. 4.—The tobacco manufacturers of this city are greatly disturbed over the latest ruling of Secretary Carlisle on the Wilson bill provisions. They say that if the ruling is not modified they cannot sell their tobacco to small manufacturers, and that they will be compelled to discontinue the business.

The ruling requires that all tobacco sold in small quantities shall be regarded as manufactured tobacco and stamped at the rate of 6 cents per pound. This they regard as unjust to their patrons.

As soon as the crime of the tramp became known bodies of men organized themselves into searching parties, with the above result.

DEATH LIST
INCREASINGSix Hundred and Fifty People Known to Have Perished.

HORRORS OF THE HINCKLEY FIRE

Whole Families Swept Out of Existence in a Twinkling—The Loss of Life Greater Among Women and Children—Bodies Gathered by the Burial Train and Piled Up in Boxes Like Cord Wood—Searching Parties Still at Work.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 4.—The death toll resulting from the forest fire increases, and now over 650 are known to be lost, the greater part women and children. The greatest percentage of deaths occurred among settlers, where whole families were swept out of existence in the twinkling of an eye. Not in any one direction, but every part of the fire-swept district the finding of bodies hourly swells the list. At an early hour this morning a party of thirty experienced woodsmen left on a special conveyance to scour the woods for bodies of settlers in out of the way cabins and clearings. They are expected to bring back appalling reports.

In the stretch of territory twenty-six miles long and from one to fifteen miles wide, not a single human habitation has been left standing except a section house at Miller, and in every part of the track of the flames bodies of men, women, children, horses and cattle were found. The position of every body found outside of Hinckley shows that shelter of some kind was sought by the agonized sufferers, and the dead are found in holes behind overturned stumps, marshy depressions and in every water course.

THE BURIAL TRAIN'S TRIP.
S. A. Thompson, who went out on the burial train yesterday, has returned. All the way down the trainmen almost had to throw people off who wished to go along and take in the grave sights. At Finlayson a party headed by E. L. Finlayson dropped off and went east several miles, visiting, among other places, the Billings farm, where the bodies of three children were found. The rest of the family had gone to Sandstone. A party headed by Fred Reynolds left the train near Skunk lake and got the bodies of Mrs. Lind and five children, whereas home was a half mile west of the track.

The train picked up the bodies of Little and Elder, two operators of the Northern American Telegraph company, who had been sent out to the scene of the trouble. The train picked up ten bodies, that of the Winnipeg Passenger Agent, Rowley, of the Winnipeg near the track. It was learned that Pine Lake, a settlement seven miles west of Finlayson, was untouched, but nothing has been heard of Sand Lake, a settlement away from the railroad, and it is feared it has gone up in smoke. Another body was discovered in the mud at base of Skunk lake, but it could not be gotten out.

SEARCHING PARTIES AT SANDSTONE.
At Miller, A. A. Farrington and Robert Forbe, local parties, started for Sandstone, and have not since been heard from. Thompson himself headed a party that picked up seven bodies in the Westernland cellar, half a mile west of the wreck. Another party headed by Lynch got the bodies of Ed Greenfield's five children, a half mile south of the wreck. Thompson and a large man were picked up over Hinckley hill who was recognized by his brother-in-law as Dennis Ryan, watchman of the Hinckley saw mill. The burial train reached Hinckley at 6 p.m.

The coroner of Pine county said there were 187 bodies already picked up in Hinckley alone. They were piled up in boxes of cord wood.

OPPOSING HOKE SMITH
Judge Long Placed Obstacles Before the Pension Destroyer.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Judge Charles D. Long, of the Michigan supreme court today filed a replication in the supreme court of the District of Columbia to the answers of Commissioner of Pensions Lochren and Secretary Hoke Smith in the suit of the application of Judge Long for a mandamus to compel the commissioner to restore his pension to the former rating of $72 a month instead of the $50 a month he now receives. The replication of Judge Long is in the nature of a general denial of the answers made by the defendants, and prays that the issue of fact be determined by the court or a jury.

This famous pension case will be heard for final argument before Judge Cole tomorrow. Commissioner Lochren has already given notice that he will move the court to dismiss the proceedings and will oppose all further delays on Judge Long's part.

JUDGE BUCHER IS SHV.
He Does Not Care for Democratic Nomination.
HARRISBURG, Sept. 4.—Ex-Judge Bucher, of Union county, Democratic candidate for representative at large in congress, has forwarded to Secretary Harter his withdrawal.

Two candidates for congress at large will be nominated by the state convention, which meets here next Tuesday.

ANDREW G. CURTIN ILL.
Pennsylvania's Famous War Governor
Co-Honored to His Room.
BELLFLORE, Pa., Sept. 4.—Owing to the illness which has confined him to his room for the past three weeks, ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin will not be able to attend the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Pittsburgh next week. He was slightly better today than he has been at any time during his illness, but was permitted to sit up only a few hours.

The old war governor has never fully recovered from the fall he had on the ice in front of his home last winter. It was a shock to his system that the ice excitement completely prostrated him.

Even in his present condition he is so enthusiastic over the encampment that were it not for the opposition of his wife he would undertake the journey to Pittsburgh.

JUST ESCAPED DEATH.

The Awful Experience of an Indiana
Aeronaut.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Sept. 4.—A most thrilling affair took place during the Labor Day exercises at Caudle park. H. M. Williams, of Sargis, Mich., was engaged to make a parachute descent. The balloon, with Williams on the trapeze. According to the programme he slid down a rope 200 feet before pulling the line to release the parachute, when, to the horror of the immense crowd, it failed to open.

Williams could be seen attempting to climb hand over hand up the rope to get at the parachute, when the balloon began to descend rapidly and landed in a heavy grove. Williams was bruised some, but not seriously injured. The line became wrapped around the trapeze bar and he could not loosen it. He says he experienced intense agony until he landed on the tree top, as he feared he had fallen, and he would turn over and drop to the ground.

BAGGED AT LAST.

Chauncey Arnold, Who Escaped from Officers a Year Ago, Is Recaptured.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—Chauncey Arnold, alias Charles Adams, who has been implicated in numerous robberies at Bucks, Dauphin and Northampton counties, was arrested here today on the charge of robbing a hardware store in Lykens, Dauphin county, in April, 1893. Arnold, who had several confederates in the Lykens robbery, was arrested shortly after it had been committed and while being taken to jail jumped from a car window and escaped, notwithstanding that he was handcuffed. A Dauphin county constable subsequently ran across Arnold, but the robber drew a revolver and made his escape by firing at the officer.

Since that time all trace of the fugitive was lost. The detectives of this city were instructed to keep a sharp look out for him, and they finally learned that he had been in this city for some time, and since his arrival had married under the name of Adams. He obtained a position with a street contractor, and was made foreman. When arrested, Arnold, who was superintending a gang of men engaged in rolling work at Easton, was in the street, denied that he was the man named in the warrant, but he was taken before Magistrate Milligan at the Central station, where the Dauphin county constable identified him.

Arnold not only has achieved considerable notoriety in the vicinity of the new city, but also in Easton, in 1892, he came into notoriety. Through Northampton county, and especially in Easton, a great many false breakings had been done which were traced to Arnold and five or six others. He was arrested in Easton and turned state's evidence, his confederates being sentenced to seven years imprisonment.

For Clerk of the Courts, JOHN H. THOMAS, Carbondale.

For Jury Commissioner, T. J. MATTHEWS, Spring Brook.

THE convention of the Republicans of the county held in the court house yesterday was not profuse of exciting scenes. Everything was conducted in a quiet, orderly way. Many had predicted that the convention would be a turbulent one, but these knowing ones were disappointed.

At midnight on Monday John R. Fellows expressed himself as confident that he would be nominated. His friends shared his confidence, but early yesterday morning that confidence was somewhat shaken, and by 10:30, when the convention opened, it was an open secret that Mr. Fellows would not be able to summon together near enough of votes to insure his nomination.

When the convention opened Mr. Fellows appeared at the door of the court room, but was not afterwards seen near the place where the delegates were in session.

George Okell developed much strength, but not enough to secure his nomination, and the same was true of George M. Watson. The strongest man in the convention, judged from the number of votes he polled, was John H. Thomas, of Carbondale.

An indication of the great interest taken in the convention was the large crowd that filled every inch of space in the court room during the day.

OPENING THE CONVENTION.

At 10:30 Chairman D. W. Powell, of the county committee, and Vice Chairman W. S. Miller made their appearance in the main entrance to the court room, and as they advanced down the aisle to the bar enclosure, where the delegates were seated, they were greeted with cheers. Ten minutes later Mr. Powell called the delegates to order and directed Secretary J. W. Browning to read the call for the convention.

The credentials of delegates were called for, and presented they were recorded and tabulated by Assistant Secretaries Emil Bonn and David J. Davies. It was 11:45 before the work of receiving delegates was completed.

When the assistant secretaries had made their report Chairman Powell rapped for order and the first real business of the day was begun. He announced that there were eight contests as follows:

Carbondale township, Northwest district—Phil Lee and J. W. Osborne.
Danmore borough, Fourth ward—Patrick Derry, Patrick McCormick and John Honnigan.
Lackawanna township, Northeast district—J. Hodge, Thomas Richards and R. F. Fern.

Le Fume borough—George M. Patterson and Frank Chase.
Old Forge, Second district—James H. Jones and Peter Schell.
Scranton, Third ward, First district—Anthony McFale and J. Stewart.
Scranton, Sixth ward, First district—George Shoemaker and George Judson.
Scranton, Eleventh ward—C. F. Beckett and L. Williams.

There were five reported from the following districts:
Scranton, Second ward, Fifth district—Thomas Fidler and John Lenahan.
Waverly borough—G. E. Stevens, Ely Carpenter.
Old Forge, Third district—Thomas Rodgers and John M. Thomas.

Chairman Powell then announced his committee on credentials and resolutions, which follows:

Credentials—W. S. Miller, W. S. Ward, Horace E. Hand, John Copeland, W. H. Withers.
Resolutions—R. A. Zimmerman, A. B. Eynon, J. F. Reynolds, E. M. Verney, W. B. Thornton.

The committees retired, and it then being high noon, adjournment was made until 3 o'clock.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION.
So immense was the throng at the afternoon session that the majority of the delegates, who were late in coming in, were compelled to stand up within and about the bar enclosure during the whole session, while spectators, and the majority of them Democrats, occupied the chairs usually reserved for witnesses, jury-men and attorneys, and which were yesterday intended for the especial use of delegates.

One delegate called a halt to proceedings as the committee on credentials' report was being read, and set everyone present smiling audibly by moving that the delegates sit down. Chairman Powell put the motion as it was made, and when it was carried by a vote which showed the unanimity of both spectators and delegates on the question there was another peal of laughter.

VETERANS IN THE CITY.

Here to Attend Their Ninth Annual Reunion.

Blue-coated veterans filled the corridors of the Conway House last evening. They were the advance guard of the survivors of the Third Pennsylvania Heavy Artillery and One Hundred and Eighty-eighth Pennsylvania Infantry, who will hold their ninth annual reunion in this city today and tomorrow.

About fifty veterans, many of them accompanied by their wives, arrived in the city last evening. Charles Schlect, of Philadelphia, president of the organization, was among the number. His headquarters are at the Conway House. Today the number of arrivals will be doubled and possibly tripled. Among yesterday's arrivals were veterans from Colorado, Illinois, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania. An informal reception was held last night at the Conway and Thomas Kay amused many of his comrades with army songs.

This morning there will be a reception for the veterans at Griffin Post rooms and at 2 o'clock the reunion will be held at Laurel Hill park. In the evening a campfire will be held in the armory. Thursday will be devoted to sight-seeing.

The local committee in charge of the reunion is composed of John W. Bayley, N. F. Hine, William Love, William Martin, of Scranton, and S. J. Hinds, of Moosic.

Yesterday.

Each delegate sent from Lackawanna county has been unequivocally instructed to support Major Everett Warren for president of the league. Notwithstanding that to all appearances the candidacy of Major Warren for president is universally regarded throughout the state as likely to meet with no opposition, yet the Scranton delegation that has gone to Harrisburg, will from the moment of its arrival until the last vote is cast in the convention today, leave nothing undone in the matter of boosting Major Warren.
